Infrastructure Management Services

World Class Solutions for all your infrastructure requirements

Entire Life-cycle Coverage   Unique Approach   Multi-technology Expertise

Organizations nowadays are growing at phenomenal rates but this growth results in greater complexities in terms of managing diverse applications and infrastructure. Burdened by the increasing expenditures on infrastructure management, companies are all the more pressurized to maintain profits as the overall IT budgets are not aligned with costs. Therefore, a process driven approach to infrastructure management becomes necessary in order to maintain a competitive advantage.

LGTECH has significant expertise in managing mission critical and complex infrastructure for any size companies. We are pioneers in providing end-to-end infrastructure management solutions comprising of infrastructure consulting, ITIL process implementations and infrastructure management. The entire portfolio of infrastructure services we offer is applicable across a variety of operating Systems, server platforms, databases, security technologies and network devices. Our well-defined approach to infrastructure management also ensures that along with availability, scalability is also achieved when business grows.

Infrastructure Service Offerings

- Enterprise Computing: Services under enterprise computing are increasing becoming popular among organizations nowadays due to innovative pricing models in infrastructure usage such as in cloud computing and virtualization. Our experience in database management, storage system management, virtualization and cloud computing ensures that your investments in infrastructure will result in the best fit for your organization in terms of cost and utilization.
- Network Management: IT networks within organizations form the backbone of infrastructure and a well-managed network will assure consistent availability and minimal outage of business. Our network management capability covers all aspects of networking that encompasses routers, switches, load balancers, network links, firewalls and intrusion protection systems.
- Virtualization and Computing: Virtualization and cloud computing is becoming more complex by adopting a wide variety of private, hybrid, and public cloud. To get the optimum virtualized and cloud infrastructure utilization you need effective Virtualization and Cloud management which ensures company's resources are optimally utilized and delivering desired business services. Virtualization and Cloud management strategies typically involve tasks like, resource optimization, performance monitoring, security and compliance auditing /management and initiating and overseeing disaster recovery and contingency plans. To perform these task IB Technology provides virtualization and cloud services which are as flexible and scalable as cloud computing strategy.
- Information Security Services: Our deep understanding in the area of Information Security has been acknowledged by our clients worldwide. Our services cover all the dimensions of information security including Information Security Management Systems through ISO 27001 Standards, Data Protection Services and IT Audit Services.

LGTECH's process oriented infrastructure management services promise breakthrough results for your business.